

NIMR is committed to providing and delivering the great service and support to NIMR's customers using the integrated management system that:

- Comply with all applicable legislation, standards and contract requirements, and meet the needs and expectations of interested parties.
- Employ competent work force and reliable equipment to undertake the works.
- Measure NIMR's progress through setting measurable IMS objectives and review IMS policies and performance regularly.
- Encourage accurate and timely reporting and investigating of all non-conformances, incidents, injuries and environmental issues.
- Ensure that all employees are made aware of the hazards in their work areas and are adequately trained so they can carry out their duties in a safe manner.
- Encourage employees to communicate, consult and participate in all health and safety matters to prevent injuries and occupational health issues.
- Encourage all contractors and subcontractors to properly manage health and safety for themselves and their employees.
- Update, implement, maintain and continually improve NIMR's IMS Policy, system and performance taking into account current best practice, technological advances, scientific understanding, customer and community needs

Approved by
Chief Executive Officer
02 January 2019